ATTENTION - EXTERNAL EMAIL - This email originated from the following external email address - jrizack@therisinggroup.com.

Spoke with Steven and he will send me the accounting early next week. I assume you want to see all of the funds received and disbursed from the time of the investment to current. Will forward to you as soon as I receive it.

Best,
Josh

I have not been directly involved with this case in a while. I do get updates and I will forward your request to Steven Donziger. Don't hesitate to call me with any questions.

Best,
Josh Rizack

Josh, you may recall that I am counsel and advisor to Wellbeck Partners, LLC with respect to its investment in the litigation against Chevron (per attached). While I have been following the course of the litigation closely, I do not have any visibility into how the invested funds have been expended.

I would therefore like to formally request an accounting of those funds: that is, I would like to understand, on behalf of my client, what funds have been received and when, and what funds have been spent and when and to what purpose. While you should of course feel free to consult your own counsel, I think you will find this is a straightforward and typical request under the circumstances.

Please let me know if you have any questions about what I am looking for.

Regards,
Mike
